A RE-EVALUATION OF GEMS & JEWELRY IN D&D

by Robert J. Kuntz

The following tables are meant as value determination substitutions for the D&D tables. Those of you gamemasters and players that like realism in your finds of precious gems and minutely carved and crafted jewelry will probably like these tables. They are meant for those sticklers that make D&Ding more interesting, in my mind. For those that like the fast-pace, roll-it-up-and-get-it-over-with type of gaming with no extra added realism to brighten up their gaming day, I suggest that these tables are not for you.

Table A — Carat Determination:

|-------|---------------|
| 01-30 | 1 carat |
| 31-60 | 2 carats |
| 61-70 | 3 carats |
| 71-75 | 4 carats |
| 76-80 | 5 carats |
| 81-85 | 6-9 carats |
| 86-90 | 10 carats |
| 91-95 | 20-50 carats |
| 96-98 | 20-70 carats* |
| 99 | 30-80 carats* |
| 00 | 100 carats* |

*Roll again: 86-98 = 100-300 carats
99 = 200-500 carats
00 = 500-1,000 carats

Table B — Gems Basic Values:

|-------|----------|
| 01-10 | 10 G.P. |
| 11-20 | 20 G.P. |
| 21-30 | 25 G.P. |
| 31-50 | 50 G.P. |
| 51-60 | 75 G.P. |
| 61-70 | 100 G.P. |
| 71-80 | 125 G.P. |
| 81-90 | 150 G.P. |
