

RAL PARTHA

The little things
make a noticeable difference.

For high quality workmanship and attention to detail, miniature collectors turn to Ral Partha. Notice the detail on "The Wizards", the newest in Ral Partha's "Personalities and Things that go Bump in the Night" collection. The craftsmanship is so exquisite and the facial features so well defined the characters actually seem to have personalities.

Look at a Ral Partha figure and you'll see why they say, "it's the little things that count."
