

MIDLAM MINIATURES

Catalogue ~ August 2012

Prices and Ordering

Welcome, brave adventurer!

Within these pages you will discover many of the inhabitants of Midlam and the surrounding environs. Mysterious characters, proud and noble dwarves, mighty minotaurs, chests full of treasure (or perhaps traps!), Deadly Doorways, monsters never seen before by man, the loathsome vampires, brave knights and the mysterious people of the caves...

To order from this catalogue, journey ye to www.omnivistascope.com, home of Midlam Miniatures, for the latest price list and new releases.

The Vengeance of the Dwarves

Great has been the suffering of the dwarves, long has been their exile. Now the wheel of fate turns again and for the dwarves, their vengeance is near, as they return to the Lost Mountains.

C1008C

C1008A

C1008O

C1008N

C1008F

C1008D

C1008K

C1008B

C1008H

C1008M

C1008G

C1008Q

C1008E

C1008I

C1008P

The Dwarf King's Court

Through Ice and Snow

Dwarves of the Lost Mountains

Dwarven Mountain Dogs

Adventurers, Mages and Mystics

The Pony Train

For any serious expedition, a set of good sturdy ponies, fair of temperament, strong in limb and sound in health are an essential requirement. For no adventurer would wish to be so laden down on their outward journey, that they couldn't defend themselves when ambushed, nor could they face leaving behind hard won treasure. These three steadfast ponies will never fail you.

C1010F

C1010C

C1007K

Treasure Chests

MMTC1

MMTC2

MMTC3

MMTC4

Whether they hold treasure, magic scrolls or merely some fiendish trap, the Treasure Chest remains irresistible.

The Caverns of the Stalagbites!

ROUGHLY 40MM TALL!

In the deepest, darkest caverns, the goblins know not to tread. For within those ancient chambers, there dwells a beast that blends in with the stalagmites, until you get close enough for them to take a bite out of you, that is...

They are the Stalagbites!

Stalagbite! The Miniatures Game!

Stalagbite! The Dwarven Quest for Gold and Glory! A new game from Midlam Miniatures and Rathbone Games.

The first of the dwarves to return to the Lost mountains have entered the deep caverns in search of long lost gold. As they tap away at the rocks, they are horrified to discover, that some of them are alive! For the menace known as the Stalagbite, infests the caverns.

Up to 4 players play dwarves, attempting to gain as much gold and gems as they can, while at the same time, keeping their comrades alive.

While Midlam Miniatures may be used with the games, they are not necessary for play.

Designed by Paul Scott
Published by Rathbone

Now Available:
Creeping Jeepers!
An Expansion for Stalagbite, introducing new threats and allowing an additional 2 players.

The Well and Deadly Doorways

The Well.

Darkness

Vault

Teeth

Slime

Door

Round Door

Spear

Vortex

Bricked Up

Cobwebs

Arch

Denizens of Dungeon Deep

RHH-1

RHH-2

RHH-3

The Red Hook Horrors are protoplasmic horrors which live in the lower caverns. These monstrous beings use their large beaks to pierce their prey and suck out their innards. They slither along at a surprising pace using their strange tentacles and pulpy mass.

BBF-M

BBF-A

CJ-2

CJ-3

CJ-4

The giant cavern Breadbasket Fungus is actually three distinct species and is highly nutritious. The tough fibrous main body provides a wood-like substance used in dwarven construction. Unfortunately, tri-lobed horrors have developed mimicry of the Breakbasket Fungus and are a constant threat to unwary travellers.

Realm of the Minotaur Lords

Deep beneath the Lost Mountains, there comes the heavy metal sound of tireless toil in the forges of the giant Minotaur Lords. Once slaves, they have carved out their own labyrinthine realm deep within the mountain. Few that enter the Realm of the Minotaur Lords will ever leave...

C1038C

C1038B

C1038F

C1038D

C1038A

C1038E

The Retinue of Count Drago de Drago

An age ago, the Orcs came to the Lost Mountains and after great battles, exiled the dwarves from their homeland. With the orcish retinue, strode the magnificent figure of Count Drago de Drago, advisor to the orc general. With him travelled the Knight, Sir Horace and his young squire, Cedric. Since that time, Count Drago has added two goblin champions to his retinue.

C1010F

C1010C

C1007K

C1043A

C1043C

Mounted Knights

Whether roaming the land on quests, jousting in tourney, rescuing fair maids, engaging in battle, harassing borders or being rude to peasants, this varied selection of knights will do thy bidding, sire!

Lance ~ C1050L

C1050A

C1050K

C1050G

C1050C

C1050D

C1050B

C1050E

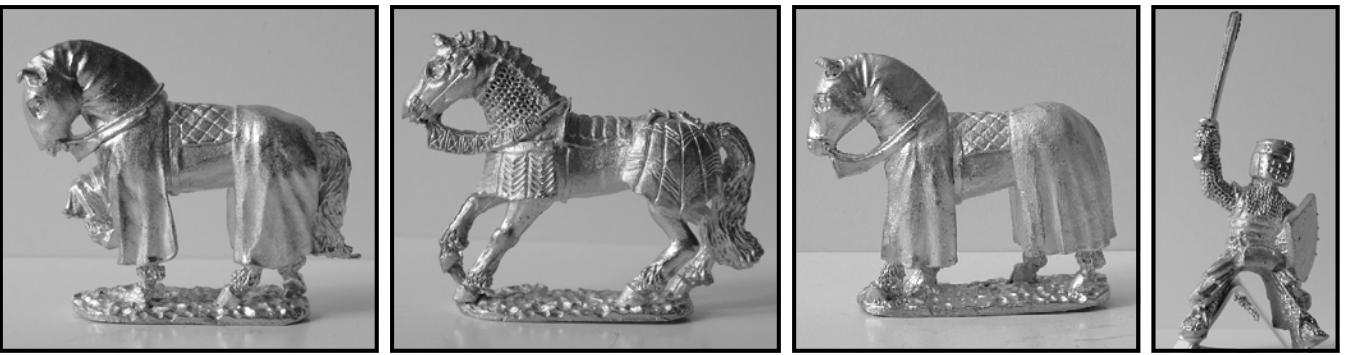

C1050M

C1050N

C1050F

C1050H

C1050P

C1050Q

C1050R

C1050I

The Dead & Undead

From the crypts of ancient Lords to the large graveyards outside the city's walls and the virulent evil of the vampire, the dead are always present in Midlam. We can but hope that their sarcophagi remain tightly shut, and that as the clock strikes thirteen, that you didn't leave that window open...

C1012A

C1016C

C1016A

C1016F

C1016G

C1016B

C1016D

C1018M

C1018L

The People of the Caves

Far to the north of Midlam, where the snow and ice hold domain, there are found a curious people. They are like man in so many ways, but they eschew anything but the most basic of weapons and clothes. They hunt the great beasts for food in packs, and will attack anyone entering their territory...

C1012C

C1012D